Principal's Desk

I wish to take this opportunity to reach out to the thousands of students willing to take admission to our college and to their guardians to say a few words about 'Barasat College'. We, at Barasat College, believe that our college is a source of pride not only for Barasat but also North 24 parganas as well as for West Bengal. The Institution though young in age (established in 1972), has already got the Accreditation of the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) and has started playing a pivotal role in catering quality education to students hailing from the nearby localities as well as from the remote villages of the North 24 parganas district. Most importantly, students from all communities, caste and creed have given this institution a truly cosmopolitan character and a unique distinction.

This institution which started only with the Commerce streams now provide multi faculty streams. Students may opt for Arts, Science or Commerce course for an honours or a general degree from west Bengal State University. The college is also a study centre of Rabindra Bharati University under the Distance Education Programme, which at present offers Post graduate courses in Bengali, English, Sanskrit, Education, Geography, Environmental Studies, History, Political Science and Master in Social Work(MSW). The college is about to open M.com and M.A. in Bengali with affiliation from WBSU and M.Com.(Distance Mode) from the University of Burdwan. In only forty nine years of its journey, this institution has marched ahead in all spheres and has achieved many a success. The success rate of the students in their respective examinations are commendable. The alumni of this college are either mostly settled in well positions in the various jobs or are well provided in their lives.

Department of Bengali

The Bengali Department of Barasat College is a primordial one that started functioning since 1988-89. The Honours course was introduced in the year 2001. Currently we have six faculties in our department who forms an efficient workgroup.

We try to enable our students to get into the heart of our language and literature. We have our own departmental library consisting of numerous reference books for students.

We believe that classroom study is not sufficient to achieve our desired goal. Simultaneously we have arranged for a number of seminars, stage performances, publication of magazines, celebration of 'Language-Day', 'Teachers' Day' etc.

For the first few years, Sociology was introduced as a pass (general subject) but soon from Academic session 2004-2005, one could treat it as an Honours subject. From its inception, the department has focused on understanding the complexities of modern social life. Here, the Honours students always have the opportunity to learn or experience the practical paper which includes dissertation paper on diverse fields which cover a range of issues of public concern like the problems of the weaker and backward section, gender and society, educational institutions, occupation and work, population dynamics, religion and different other cultural components. Their dissertation papers are based on research methodology. They experience data collection and analysis on a small scale and develop their level of critical and analytical thinking.

A substantial portion of students after the completion of undergraduate course from this college join the Post-graduate courses in different universities. The students of Sociology can be successfully employed in educational institutions, public administration, research and planning, NGOs and other professional areas. Some of our alumni students are presently engaged in teaching and research.

Department of Computer Science

Today we find that information technology has become overwhelmingly pervasive, while its parent, computing science, has become correspondingly hard to find. While many Computer Science educational institutions have shifted focus from core Computer Science and become specialty providers for the IT industry while our department has remained true to the vision on which it was founded.

Our Department has produced hundreds of. They have consistently excelled in the highly competitive industrial environment and Government sector. We attribute this success to the winning combination of a dedicated and experienced faculty that works hard at imparting quality education and last but not least, our sincere students.

Learning is a continuous process and does not end with the acquisition of a degree, especially because steady and rapid advances in computing technologies shorten the life of tools and techniques prevalent today. Therefore we do not aim to make our students walking manuals of any language or package. Instead, they are given a strong foundation in computer science and problem-solving techniques, and are made adaptable to changes. We are confident that our students will prove themselves worthy for any organization or institute.
